
Supplementary Fig. 5. Author collaboration network in autoimmune gastritis research (1995–2025). The network includes authors with at least six publications. Node size represents publication output, and links represent co-authorship relationships, with thickness indicating collaboration strength. Colors denote collaborative clusters.